The attraction which wes seen at the opera house last evening by an excellent audience was one of the best farce come-dies that has visited Houston this season. ties that has visited Houston this season, "Miss Francis of Yale" is one of the students who assumes female roles in col-lege theatricals. Having been seen in his female costume in his own and his friend's room by the old maid, man-hating govern-ess of his friend's swe-heart, the mistake leads to a series of complications, funny incidents, comical situations and misunder-standings, which constitute the action of the comedy. The fun is clean and the denouement very clever, producing a laugh-able success in every sense of the word.

The large audience last evening laughed heartily and laughed continuously, for the company is as good as the comedy.

Mr. Girardot, as the innocent victim of all the mistakes as "Miss Francis." was all the mistakes as "Miss Francis," was thoroughly effective, exhibiting the marked and enjoyable talent for fun-making that made him so popular and well known in "Charley's Aunt." But there were no "sticks" in the cast. The company is composed of former members of the best class of organizations on the road, and the various roles last evening were admirably stilled. Miles Venez was seviented to read the control of the control illied. Miss Young was particularly good as the governess, while Miss Shannon as Mrs. Chetwynd. Miss Monte Denico as Vesta and Mias Cotton as Cosette were all excellent.

There will be a matinee today, and the want to enjoy a good laugh should not miss "Miss Francis of Yale."
